The Global Findex Database 2017 Asli Demirguc-Kunt 2018-04-19 In 2011 the World Bank—with funding from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation—launched the Global Findex database, the world's most comprehensive data set on how adults save, borrow, make payments, and manage risk. Drawing on survey data collected in collaboration with Gallup, Inc., the Global Findex database covers more than 140 economies around the world. The initial survey round was followed by a second one in 2014 and by a third in 2017. Compiled using nationally representative surveys of more than 150,000 adults age 15 and above in over 140 economies, The Global Findex Database 2017: Measuring Financial Inclusion and the Fintech Revolution includes updated indicators on access to and use of formal and informal financial services. It has additional data on the use of financial technology (or fintech), including the use of mobile phones and the Internet to conduct financial transactions. The data reveal opportunities to expand access to financial services among people who do not have an account—the unbanked—as well as to promote greater use of digital financial services among those who do have an account. The Global Findex database has become a mainstay of global efforts to promote financial inclusion. In addition to being widely cited by scholars and development practitioners, Global Findex data are used to track progress toward the World Bank goal of Universal Financial Access by 2020 and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. The database, the full text of the report, and the underlying country-level data for all figures—along with the questionnaire, the survey methodology, and other relevant materials—are available at www.worldbank.org/globalfindex.

Immigration Jill H. Wilson 2019-09-17 U.S. law provides for the temporary admission of foreign nationals. Nonimmigrants are foreign nationals who are admitted for a designated period of time and a specific purpose. There are 24 major nonimmigrant visa categories, which are commonly referred to by the letter and numeral that denote their subsection in the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA); for example, B-2 tourists, E-2 treaty investors, F-1 foreign students, H-1B temporary professional workers, J-1 cultural exchange participants, or S-5 law enforcement witnesses and informants. A U.S. Department of State (DOS) consular officer (at the time of application for a visa) and a Department of Homeland Security (DHS) inspector (at the time of application for admission) must be satisfied that an alien is entitled to nonimmigrant status. The burden of proof is on the applicant to establish eligibility for nonimmigrant status and the type of nonimmigrant visa for which the application is made. Both DOS consular officers (when the alien is applying for nonimmigrant status abroad) and DHS inspectors (when the alien is entering the United States) must also determine that the alien is not ineligible for a visa under the INA's "grounds for inadmissibility," which include criminal, terrorist, and public health grounds for exclusion. In FY2018, DOS consular officers issued 9.0 million nonimmigrant visas, down from a peak of 10.9 million in FY2015. There were approximately 6.8 million tourism and business visas, which comprised more than three-quarters of all nonimmigrant visas issued in FY2018. Other notable groups were temporary workers (924,000, or 10.2%), students (399,000, or 4.4%), and cultural exchange visitors (382,000, or 4.2%). Visas issued to foreign nationals from Asia made up 43% of nonimmigrant visas issued in FY2018, followed by North America (21%), South America (18%), Europe (12%), and Africa (5%). U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) inspectors approved 181.1 million temporary admissions of foreign nationals to the United States during FY2017. CBP data enumerate arrivals, thus counting frequent travelers each time they were admitted to the United States during the fiscal year. Mexican nationals with border crossing cards and Canadian nationals traveling for business or tourist purposes accounted for the vast majority of admissions, representing approximately 103.5 million entries in FY2017. California and Florida were the top two destination states for nonimmigrant visa holders in FY2017, with each state being listed as the destination for more than 10 million nonimmigrant admissions. In addition, nine other states were each listed as the destination for at least 1 million nonimmigrant admissions in that year. Current law and regulations set terms for nonimmigrant lengths of stay in the United States, typically include foreign residency requirements, and often limit what aliens are permitted to do while in the country (e.g., engage in employment or enroll in school). Some observers assert that the law and regulations are not uniformly or rigorously enforced, and the issue of visa overstays has received an increasing amount of attention in recent years. Achieving an optimal balance among policy priorities, such as ensuring national security, facilitating trade and commerce, protecting public health and safety, and fostering international cooperation, remains a challenge.

B-2 Visitor Visa Application Brian Lerner 2021-11-08 Want to visit the U.S.? Want to come to the United States to visit family, see sights, or travel around the states? The B-2 visitor visa application is what you will need. If approved, then you could get 6 months to come and visit the U.S. However, as many as you know, it will be rejected because the officer does not believe you will return home to your country. The law says your presumed to not want to return. This sample B-2 Visa is for you. It has everything necessary to give you the best chance possible to get an approval. Just input your own information and use the application as a guide. It has been prepared by an expert Immigration Attorney. Thus, this book will allow you to see a guide of how it is done, prepared and submitted. The B1/B2 visa is usually what is issued at one time. Whether you are under the B-1 or the B-2 will depend upon the reason you are coming here to the U.S. You should note that the biggest reason the B-2 is denied is because you cannot properly show and prove to the officer that you intend to return to your home country once you are done with your visit to the U.S. This is known as 214(b) and you have probably seen that in your passport if you were rejected from coming into the U.S. This book gives you a very good example as to what items you should include in the B-2 application. It gives examples of all the items and reasons you will return to your home country.

Progress in America Nick Streza 2011-08 Why does it seem that the United States has gone insane? Why do our politicians successfully lie to us every day? And how do we fall for the unkept promises they continue to deliver? Common sense is being assassinated by modern American Progressives. It's time that we as American citizens define and describe the who, what, when, where, why, and how of the modern American Progressive movement in our country. Tackling issues such as illegal aliens, the definition of Christianity, improving our public school system, and medical care, Progress in America offers commonsense solutions to improve American political standards. Poignant and humorous allegorical stories told through casual and clear writing help explain how today's Progressives use methods to promote their agendas through lying to the American public. A must read for those who wish to be able to clearly describe the modern Progressive movement in our country to their family and friends, this book is today's definitive explanation of why things are going wrong, who is causing the insanity, and what you personally can do to help make a positive change for your future. Written by a regular guy for a regular guy, Progress in America offers a thorough explanation in a language that even the least political-savvy citizen can follow. Dive into American politics as you learn to finally understand how politicians scheme their way to power, how citizens fall into complacency, and what you can do to not be a victim.
